

Role Profile

Details

Job title: Warehouse Assistant
Job Grade: Assistant
Reporting to: Warehouse Operations Manager
Location: Manse Lane, Knaresborough
Hours: Full time, 37 hours (flexible between 8am and 6pm)

Overall purpose

Reporting to the Warehouse Operations Manager, the Warehouse Assistant will play a vital role in ensuring the smooth and effective operation of Yorkshire Cancer Research's warehouse. The role will focus on accurately picking, packing and preparing donated stock for distribution to retail outlets or beneficiaries.

This role provides an opportunity to make a real difference by supporting the flow of goods that ultimately attracts the funds needed to deliver life-saving research and services across Yorkshire.

Key responsibilities

Picking and Packing

- Accurately pick stock from order lists that are sent to the Warehouse.
- Pack goods securely and appropriately for transport to Shops, Beneficiaries or Head Office.
- Pick, prepare and ship parcels for dispatch.

Stock Handling

- Accept and put away deliveries from both external suppliers and our Donation Centre.
- Ensure stock is organised and accessible at all times.
- Assist with stock counts and inventory checks.
- Safely and efficiently load vans at the end of each day with the required stock.

Health and Safety

- Follow all warehouse safety procedures and ensure compliance with Health & Safety Regulations.
- Maintain a clean and safe working environment.
- Use equipment (eg. Trolleys, pallet jacks) safely and responsibly and in line with the training provided.

Teamwork and Communication

- Work collaboratively with other warehouse employees and volunteers.
- Communicate effectively with the Warehouse Operations Manager regarding stock levels and issues.

Other

- Observe and demonstrate the values of Yorkshire Cancer Research.
- Undertake additional or other duties outside the key job duties within the team and across the charity, as the charity may reasonably require.

Qualifications

- Ideally educated to GCSE or equivalent, or able to demonstrate experience in a similar role at a similar level.

Knowledge and experience

- Experience of working in a warehouse or logistics role is beneficial but not essential.
- Familiarity with Microsoft Office and the use of technology.
- Experience of working across teams and supporting multiple stakeholders.
- Understanding of charitable retail operations is desirable.

Skills and abilities

- The role includes manual handling duties, and therefore, you must be able to safely and confidently conduct manual handling up to the limits specified by the HSE.
- Highly organised with good time management skills and the ability to prioritise own workload to meet deadlines.
- Good attention to detail and accuracy.
- Ability to work in a fast-paced environment.
- Resilient, embraces change and evolution, encouraging others to do likewise.
- team-player with good communication skills.
- Good written and numerical skills.

Other requirements

- A willingness to complete our pre-employment checks (to be undertaken once the role is offered and accepted) which include:
  - A check on your employment history by seeking two references
  - A check on your eligibility to work in the UK as per the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006
  - A DBS check at the level relevant to your role.

DBS Check Level

- This role requires a DBS check at basic level.

Values and Behaviours

- Passionate about the values of Yorkshire Cancer Research (see 'Our Values' below).
- Safeguarding is the responsibility of all employees who must remain aware and vigilant to potential safeguarding breaches and always report any suspicions or incidents following our internal reporting guidelines which will be shared during induction.
- Yorkshire Cancer Research operates a strict 'no smoking' policy throughout our premises, car parks and vehicles. Staff must not smoke whilst wearing charity branded clothing or whilst on duty. If the post holder chooses to, the charity will help and support them to stop completely or temporarily abstain from smoking during their working hours.

YORKSHIRE CANCER RESEARCH

Job Applicant Privacy Notice

Data controller: Yorkshire Cancer Research (the Charity)

As part of any recruitment process, the Charity collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants. The Charity is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that data and to meeting its data protection obligations.

What information does the Charity collect?

The Charity collects a range of information about you. This includes but is not limited to:

- your name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number.
- details of your qualifications, skills, experience, and employment history.
- information about your current level of remuneration, including benefit entitlements.
- whether or not you have a disability for which the organisation needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process.
- information about your entitlement to work in the UK; and
- equal opportunities monitoring information, including information about your ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health and religion or belief.

The Charity collects this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be contained in application forms, CVs or resumes, obtained from your passport or other identity documents, or collected through interviews or other forms of assessment, including online tests.

The Charity will also collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references supplied by former employers, information from employment background check providers and information from criminal records checks. The Charity will seek information from third parties only once a job offer to you has been made and will inform you that it is doing so.

Data will be stored in a range of different places, including on your application record, in HR management systems and on other IT systems (including email).

Why does the Charity process personal data?

The Charity needs to process data to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract with you. It also needs to process your data to enter into a contract with you.

In some cases, the Charity needs to process data to ensure that it is complying with its legal obligations. For example, it is required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

The Charity has a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the Charity to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job. The Charity may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

Where the Charity relies on legitimate interests as a reason for processing data, it has considered whether or not those interests are overridden by the rights and freedoms of employees or workers and has concluded that they are not.

The Charity processes health information if it needs to make reasonable adjustments to the recruitment process for candidates who have a disability. This is to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

Where the Charity processes other special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health or religion or belief, this is for equal opportunities monitoring purposes.

The Charity is obliged to seek information about criminal convictions and offences. Where the Charity seeks this information, it does so because it is necessary for it to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

If your application is unsuccessful, the Charity will keep your personal data on file in case there are future employment opportunities for which you may be suited. The Charity will ask for your consent before it keeps your data for this purpose, and you are free to withdraw your consent at any time.

Who has access to data?

Your information will be shared internally for the purposes of the recruitment process. This includes members of the HR and senior executive teams, interviewers involved in the recruitment process, managers in the Charity's team with the vacancy and IT staff if access to the data is necessary for the performance of their roles.

The Charity will not share your data with third parties unless your application for employment is successful and it makes you an offer of employment. The Charity will then share your data with former employers to obtain references for you, employment background check providers to obtain necessary background checks and the Disclosure and Barring Service to obtain necessary criminal records checks.

The Charity will not transfer your data outside the United Kingdom.

How does the Charity protect data?

The Charity takes the security of your data seriously. It has internal policies and controls in place to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed, and is not accessed except by our employees in the proper performance of their duties. The Charity has a Data Protection Policy and an ICT Acceptable Use Policy which apply to all its employees.

For how long does the Charity keep data?

If your application for employment is unsuccessful, the Charity will hold your data on file for 6 months after the end of the relevant recruitment process. If you agree to allow the organisation to keep your personal data on file, the Charity will hold your data on file for a further period of 6 months for consideration for future employment opportunities. At the end of that period or once you withdraw your consent, your data is deleted or destroyed.

If your application for employment is successful, personal data gathered during the recruitment process will be transferred to your personnel file and retained during your employment. The periods for which your data will be held will be provided to you in a new employee privacy statement.

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. You can:

- access and obtain a copy of your data on request;
- require the Charity to change incorrect or incomplete data;
- require the Charity to delete or stop processing your data, for example where the data is no longer necessary for the purposes of processing;
- object to the processing of your data where the Charity is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing; and
- ask the Charity to stop processing data for a period if data is inaccurate or there is a dispute about whether or not your interests override the Charity's legitimate grounds for processing data.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact the Charity's Company Secretary, Joanne Mornin (joanne.mornin@ycr.org.uk)

You can make a subject access request by contacting the Company Secretary.

If you believe that the Charity has not complied with your data protection rights, you can complain to the Information Commissioner.

What if you do not provide personal data?

You are under no statutory or contractual obligation to provide data to the Charity during the recruitment process. However, if you do not provide the information, the Charity may not be able to process your application properly or at all.
